

Recent Publications.

AN ARCTIC BOAT JOURNEY, in the autumn of

This is a new edition, enlarged and illustrated, of a work which had a very favorable reception on its first appearance half a dozen years ago. It will be remembered that, in the autumn of 1854, eight persons, being a portion of the officers and crew of the brig Advent, then in Resolute Harbor, made an attempt to reach Upernivik, in North Greenland, the nearest outpost of civilization. The party were absent during nearly four months, and they returned to the brig unsuccessful. The story is their adventures and discoveries, however full of interest; and Dr. Hayes, to whom the direction of the expedition was committed by Dr. Kane, has told it well in the book before us. The fresh interest which the publication of the author's "Open Polar Sea" has excited in the subject of Arctic discovery has led to the republication of the present work,—a work which may be regarded as the precursor of Dr. Hayes' later one, inasmuch as the discoveries recorded in "The Open Polar Sea" were made upon the basis of plans announced in the "Bont Journey." In a note to the publisher in reference to the present edition, Dr. Hay

And right well did it serve its purpose; for the Expedition to the Arctic Seas, which was intended to be aided (and was aided) by the fact in accordance with the plan therein set forth, that the Expedition returned in somewhat less time, and in some cases with less expense more, and in some cases with less delay than was expected. If, however, owing to unusual obstacles, the enterprise did not result as I had hoped it would, in the launching of my boat upon the Open Polar Sea, it was my fortunate enough to penetrate to the shores of the continent, and to plant the American Flag upon the ice by a dog sled; I planted an American Flag upon a Land nearer to the North Pole than had ever been reached by any previous explorer, thus giving to the Republic the extreme northeastern border of its

The work is issued in very handsome style and is illustrated by a number of spirited designs, and by carefully prepared charts. For sale by Hall L. Davis, 53 Exchange street.

Varieties.

—The country was scandalized the other day at learning that a slab from the tomb of Servius Tullius, dedicated by the citizens of Rome to the memory of Abraham Lincoln had been discovered, after a long disappearance, in an ash-hole, or a coal-bunker, or some such ignominious vault, under the Capitol. The Tribune thinks if some of the modern works of art which decorate the national hall could be consigned to the same obscure retreat the people would breathe more freely.

—The Germans of Milwaukee have met and resolved against the Sabbath and Temperance laws, which they declare are an infringement on personal rights and cultivate hypocrisy as a pharisaical disposition.

—A fresh-water whale or aquatic monster which "puffs, blows, moans, and eats white fish," has been seen in Lake Michigan. It is described as being much larger than any stu-

—The marriage of George I., of Greece, Princess Olga, of Russia, which took place at St. Petersburg on the 21 inst., was celebrated on the same evening in New York by a dinner at the Athenaeum Club, at the invitation of S. Stalkne, Esq., by a few Danish residents. Prof. Adolph L. Kloppen, for four years private secretary to King George, was present, and a congratulatory address was drafted in presentation to the young King.

which runs thus: The people living in a building, the upper floor of which has been used as a military prison by the confederates during the war, were alarmed and disturbed of night by strange noises in the aforesaid upper story. Finally, one brave individual proceeded up the stairs and forced the door, and by the light of his lamp discovered a man's skeleton lying on the floor.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bradlee, of Boston, celebrated their golden wedding on, Thursday last. Numerous tributes of love and respect were received from friends, and the interest and pleasure of the occasion were much enhanced.

hanced by the ceremonies attending the christening of a grandchild of the aged couple, Rev. Messrs. E. E. Hale and Rufus Ellis officiating. Mr. Bradlee, who was 89 years of age, appeared in excellent health and spirits, yet almost before the festivities were over, he was no more! The same journal which furnished an account of the golden wedding contained in another column a notice of his death. In the crowning moment of a happy married life surrounded by his children and friends, and in the midst of the tributes of their affection, peacefully fell asleep.

—The Editor of the Southern Springs (Miss.) Journal.

—Anything cool is refreshing in this weather, and the following anecdote from New Orleans is about as cool as could be desired: "A passenger got into one of the street cars and began to smoke. The driver objected, saying this was among the forbidden things, and himing that if he permitted it he would be discharged. 'If so,' said the smoker, 'I'll engage you immediately.'"

—A large meteor was recently seen in Wisconsin, which, after traversing an arc of 40 degrees, burst into three glowing balls, exhibiting the national colors—the red, white and blue.

—A citizen of Washington claims that after devoting years to the subject of aerial navigation, he has perfected a plan by which he can transport passengers and mails from Washington to New York in three hours. All he requires is money.

—Fanny Fern thinks it ought to be considered a disgrace to be sick, confidently adding:

am fifty, and I feel half the time as if we were just made. To be sure, I was born in Maine, where the timber and the human race last; but I don't eat pastry, nor candy, nor cream. I own stout boots—pretty ones too. I have a water-proof cloak, and no diamonds like a nice bit of beefsteak and a glass of ale and anybody else who wants it may eat pastry. I go to bed at ten and get up at six. I dislike to run in the rain because it feels good on my face. I don't care for my clothes, but I will wash well; and after I am buried, I warn you, do let any fresh air or sunlight down on my coffin if you don't want me to get up."

—The nickel mines from which the government obtains the material for its small metal currency, are located near Lancaster, Pa.

—The duties paid at San Francisco during the last week amounted to $303,000. Since the first of January they have reached $418,000.

—Rev. E. E. Hale says the adjective "blatant" is the virtuous oath by which simple people, who are improving their habits, curse themselves of a stronger epithet, just as men who are abandoning tobacco take to flagrant.

—An exchange truly observes that General Sheridan has become almost as obnoxious to the Democratic press and to Democratic lea-—An amusing instance of critical contradiction occurs in the notices by the London press of Dr. Holland's recent novel, "The Heroes of Crampton." The Spectator says, "It is a book of considerable merit." The Morning Star says, "It is a thoroughly good and readable story, full of incident, and containing some capital studies of character;" and the London Review says, "It is a book of a thoroughly worse character, and does not contain a single page worth perusal." All these notices are frankly printed in an advertisement of the book in an English paper.

—John G. Saxo, writing to the Boston Post relates the following incident of a recent visit to Stratford-on-Avon: "While waiting at a hotel at Leamington I fell into conversation with a railway official at the station touching the birth-place of Shakespeare. The man remarked that he had been for two years a resident at Stratford, and was sorry to say that recent improvements were quite obliterating the old landmarks. On my concurring in his regret, and adding some natural words of eulogy upon the great poet, he said, drily enough, 'Yes, but I was a clever man, you know, for his day, I know, but not at all up to these times, you know." It was clearly an honest commen-ry, and so with an inward smile at the difficulty of human opinion touching the best ac-tial reputation in the world, I bowed to my acquaintance and took my departure."

First Paper to-day—Taxes and Current Wives; the Execution of Mrs. Burrill; Gen. Grant's Opinions; Recent Publications; Varieties.

Fourth Paper—Captives; Philadelphia; the New Dominion and its Peculiarities; &c.

THE JACKSON DEMOCRAT, Mississippi, publishes, in the biggest type its limited printed copy, can supply, this decree: "The negro must be deported or exterminated! All the 'devil-backed imps of darkness, whether black or brown, whether negroes or Indians, whether mongrels or pure-blooded, whether 'discolored' or 'dark-skinned,' from the cave, from the night, and even from the thoughts of the 'heaven-born whites.' Without the aid of the negroes the editor of The Democrat would probably be begging his bread."

THE FALL ELECTIONS.—The elections this fall occur in the following order: Sept. 3—Vermont; Sept. 9, Maine; Oct. 8—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; Oct. 20—New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Nevada; Nov. 2, Colorado. The Rebel States will hold their elections on the 11th of the month. Congress and the District Commissioners.

A Copperhead Broadside.

The following circular is being widely distributed by the supporters of the Democratic party in this State. The copy which lies before us comes from Augusta, where the Democratic candidate for governor practices law and conducts the Maine Standard. The private circulation of this broadside is a violation of the notion of honorable discussion entertained by the political managers of the Democratic party so admirably that we give it the benefit of our circulations:

RADICAL EXTERMINATION IN TIME OF PEACE.

TAX-PAYERS, LOOK AT THIS!

The following are the expenditures of the Government for 1896, 1897 and 1898:

	1896.	1897.	1898.
Service.	$1,016,000,000	$1,212,000,000	$1,412,000,000
Foreign Intercourse.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Miscellaneous.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Interest on Debt.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of War.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of Navy.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Total.	$1,019,000,000	$1,215,000,000	$1,415,000,000

The above does not include the interest paid on the public debt, which was $138,000,000 in 1896, $148,000,000 in 1897, and $158,000,000 in 1898. When we add to the above the interest on the public debt, we find that the total cost of the Government for 1896 was $1,157,000,000, for 1897 $1,363,000,000, and for 1898 $1,573,000,000. This is a record of extravagance that should make every citizen look at his pocketbook and ask himself whether he is getting his money's worth.

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

This document bears the marks of its authorship. It is the Bangor Democrat which seized with critical severity upon a passage in Governor Chamberlain's inaugural address about the "municipalities of Maine." It has been harping upon it ever since because nobody has been fit to vindicate the Governor's scholarship against its blundering ass. Whoever wrote it, it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander.

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."—Is an old proverb which is truly brought to mind by the following sentences from a communication in yesterday's Argus:

The issues involved in the ensuing presidential election are of such importance that the very existence of the government is at stake. It is not a question of party advantage, but a question of the preservation of the Union. We must not allow ourselves to be divided by party lines, but must stand together for the good of our country.

Political Items.

The man who reported that Gen. Butler had a detective on Gen. Grant's track is a worthless scoundrel named Casarano, who has been in Sing Sing and, worse still, one of Jack Rogers' favorites.

A western paper says that Hancock is a Democrat, and would probably initiate, as far as possible, the negative, anti-negro policy of 1891, if appointed to Sheridan's place in the Fifth District.

John M. Bots and his friends have decided to overlook the ill-treatment they received at the Richmond convention, and to labor with the Radical party.

The Ohio Democrats hope to carry enough of the close counties in the State to enable them to put Pendleton or Thurman in Wade's place. One of their more successful plans is to keep Vallandigham as quiet as possible.

The Chicago Tribune predicts that the Republicans will carry twice as many States in the South as they did in the North at the Presidential election. Senator Wilson will undoubtedly confirm the opinion, and, what is more, the South itself will confirm it.

The Tribune wisely advises Brownlow, now that he is released to stop talking. It says that he means well, but he talks too much, and he sometimes talks like the Negro Brownlow.

The New York Herald, commenting upon the result of the election of 1896, says that the South will go solidly for the Republicans, and that the Democrats have ruined themselves and President Johnson in a vain attempt to recover the old Southern balance of power. The Herald adds that "the Northern Democracy, then, looking to the next Presidency, have not a leg to stand upon or a peg to hang by, and so the sooner, as a separate party, they are disbanded and reconstructed, the better it will be for them."

Retirement of Secretary Stanton.

When the Secretary of War retired from the administration of President Johnson in sympathy with the loyal people of the United States is broken, and he stands as isolated as that mountain in the desert. The Secretary of War is a man of great ability and high character, and his retirement is a great loss to the country.

THE FAIR ELECTIONS.—The elections this fall occur in the following order: Sept. 3—Vermont; Sept. 9, Maine; Oct. 8—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; Oct. 20—New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Nevada; Nov. 2, Colorado. The Rebel States will hold their elections on the 11th of the month. Congress and the District Commissioners.

A Copperhead Broadside.

The following circular is being widely distributed by the supporters of the Democratic party in this State. The copy which lies before us comes from Augusta, where the Democratic candidate for governor practices law and conducts the Maine Standard. The private circulation of this broadside is a violation of the notion of honorable discussion entertained by the political managers of the Democratic party so admirably that we give it the benefit of our circulations:

RADICAL EXTERMINATION IN TIME OF PEACE.

TAX-PAYERS, LOOK AT THIS!

The following are the expenditures of the Government for 1896, 1897 and 1898:

	1896.	1897.	1898.
Service.	$1,016,000,000	$1,212,000,000	$1,412,000,000
Foreign Intercourse.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Miscellaneous.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Interest on Debt.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of War.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of Navy.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Total.	$1,019,000,000	$1,215,000,000	$1,415,000,000

The above does not include the interest paid on the public debt, which was $138,000,000 in 1896, $148,000,000 in 1897, and $158,000,000 in 1898. When we add to the above the interest on the public debt, we find that the total cost of the Government for 1896 was $1,157,000,000, for 1897 $1,363,000,000, and for 1898 $1,573,000,000. This is a record of extravagance that should make every citizen look at his pocketbook and ask himself whether he is getting his money's worth.

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

This document bears the marks of its authorship. It is the Bangor Democrat which seized with critical severity upon a passage in Governor Chamberlain's inaugural address about the "municipalities of Maine." It has been harping upon it ever since because nobody has been fit to vindicate the Governor's scholarship against its blundering ass. Whoever wrote it, it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander.

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."—Is an old proverb which is truly brought to mind by the following sentences from a communication in yesterday's Argus:

The issues involved in the ensuing presidential election are of such importance that the very existence of the government is at stake. It is not a question of party advantage, but a question of the preservation of the Union. We must not allow ourselves to be divided by party lines, but must stand together for the good of our country.

Political Items.

The man who reported that Gen. Butler had a detective on Gen. Grant's track is a worthless scoundrel named Casarano, who has been in Sing Sing and, worse still, one of Jack Rogers' favorites.

A western paper says that Hancock is a Democrat, and would probably initiate, as far as possible, the negative, anti-negro policy of 1891, if appointed to Sheridan's place in the Fifth District.

John M. Bots and his friends have decided to overlook the ill-treatment they received at the Richmond convention, and to labor with the Radical party.

The Ohio Democrats hope to carry enough of the close counties in the State to enable them to put Pendleton or Thurman in Wade's place. One of their more successful plans is to keep Vallandigham as quiet as possible.

The Chicago Tribune predicts that the Republicans will carry twice as many States in the South as they did in the North at the Presidential election. Senator Wilson will undoubtedly confirm the opinion, and, what is more, the South itself will confirm it.

The Tribune wisely advises Brownlow, now that he is released to stop talking. It says that he means well, but he talks too much, and he sometimes talks like the Negro Brownlow.

The New York Herald, commenting upon the result of the election of 1896, says that the South will go solidly for the Republicans, and that the Democrats have ruined themselves and President Johnson in a vain attempt to recover the old Southern balance of power. The Herald adds that "the Northern Democracy, then, looking to the next Presidency, have not a leg to stand upon or a peg to hang by, and so the sooner, as a separate party, they are disbanded and reconstructed, the better it will be for them."

Commencement at Bowdoin.

The Congregational Church was filled to repletion last evening to listen to the prize declamation of the Junior class. The Germania Band, of Bowdoin, played a fine program of music during the evening. The exercises were presided over by President Harris, who introduced the speakers, according to the following programme:

1. George J. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
2. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
3. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
4. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
5. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
6. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
7. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
8. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
9. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.
10. Charles H. Chapman, New Brunswick, N. J.

THE FAIR ELECTIONS.—The elections this fall occur in the following order: Sept. 3—Vermont; Sept. 9, Maine; Oct. 8—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; Oct. 20—New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Nevada; Nov. 2, Colorado. The Rebel States will hold their elections on the 11th of the month. Congress and the District Commissioners.

A Copperhead Broadside.

TAX-PAYERS, LOOK AT THIS!

The following are the expenditures of the Government for 1896, 1897 and 1898:

	1896.	1897.	1898.
Service.	$1,016,000,000	$1,212,000,000	$1,412,000,000
Foreign Intercourse.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Miscellaneous.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Interest on Debt.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of War.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of Navy.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Total.	$1,019,000,000	$1,215,000,000	$1,415,000,000

The above does not include the interest paid on the public debt, which was $138,000,000 in 1896, $148,000,000 in 1897, and $158,000,000 in 1898. When we add to the above the interest on the public debt, we find that the total cost of the Government for 1896 was $1,157,000,000, for 1897 $1,363,000,000, and for 1898 $1,573,000,000. This is a record of extravagance that should make every citizen look at his pocketbook and ask himself whether he is getting his money's worth.

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

This document bears the marks of its authorship. It is the Bangor Democrat which seized with critical severity upon a passage in Governor Chamberlain's inaugural address about the "municipalities of Maine." It has been harping upon it ever since because nobody has been fit to vindicate the Governor's scholarship against its blundering ass. Whoever wrote it, it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander.

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."—Is an old proverb which is truly brought to mind by the following sentences from a communication in yesterday's Argus:

The issues involved in the ensuing presidential election are of such importance that the very existence of the government is at stake. It is not a question of party advantage, but a question of the preservation of the Union. We must not allow ourselves to be divided by party lines, but must stand together for the good of our country.

Political Items.

The man who reported that Gen. Butler had a detective on Gen. Grant's track is a worthless scoundrel named Casarano, who has been in Sing Sing and, worse still, one of Jack Rogers' favorites.

A western paper says that Hancock is a Democrat, and would probably initiate, as far as possible, the negative, anti-negro policy of 1891, if appointed to Sheridan's place in the Fifth District.

John M. Bots and his friends have decided to overlook the ill-treatment they received at the Richmond convention, and to labor with the Radical party.

The Ohio Democrats hope to carry enough of the close counties in the State to enable them to put Pendleton or Thurman in Wade's place. One of their more successful plans is to keep Vallandigham as quiet as possible.

The Chicago Tribune predicts that the Republicans will carry twice as many States in the South as they did in the North at the Presidential election. Senator Wilson will undoubtedly confirm the opinion, and, what is more, the South itself will confirm it.

The Tribune wisely advises Brownlow, now that he is released to stop talking. It says that he means well, but he talks too much, and he sometimes talks like the Negro Brownlow.

The New York Herald, commenting upon the result of the election of 1896, says that the South will go solidly for the Republicans, and that the Democrats have ruined themselves and President Johnson in a vain attempt to recover the old Southern balance of power. The Herald adds that "the Northern Democracy, then, looking to the next Presidency, have not a leg to stand upon or a peg to hang by, and so the sooner, as a separate party, they are disbanded and reconstructed, the better it will be for them."

Portland and vicinity.

New Advertisements this Day.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

THE FAIR ELECTIONS.—The elections this fall occur in the following order: Sept. 3—Vermont; Sept. 9, Maine; Oct. 8—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; Oct. 20—New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Nevada; Nov. 2, Colorado. The Rebel States will hold their elections on the 11th of the month. Congress and the District Commissioners.

A Copperhead Broadside.

The following circular is being widely distributed by the supporters of the Democratic party in this State. The copy which lies before us comes from Augusta, where the Democratic candidate for governor practices law and conducts the Maine Standard. The private circulation of this broadside is a violation of the notion of honorable discussion entertained by the political managers of the Democratic party so admirably that we give it the benefit of our circulations:

RADICAL EXTERMINATION IN TIME OF PEACE.

TAX-PAYERS, LOOK AT THIS!

The following are the expenditures of the Government for 1896, 1897 and 1898:

	1896.	1897.	1898.
Service.	$1,016,000,000	$1,212,000,000	$1,412,000,000
Foreign Intercourse.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Miscellaneous.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Interest on Debt.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of War.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of Navy.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Total.	$1,019,000,000	$1,215,000,000	$1,415,000,000

The above does not include the interest paid on the public debt, which was $138,000,000 in 1896, $148,000,000 in 1897, and $158,000,000 in 1898. When we add to the above the interest on the public debt, we find that the total cost of the Government for 1896 was $1,157,000,000, for 1897 $1,363,000,000, and for 1898 $1,573,000,000. This is a record of extravagance that should make every citizen look at his pocketbook and ask himself whether he is getting his money's worth.

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

This document bears the marks of its authorship. It is the Bangor Democrat which seized with critical severity upon a passage in Governor Chamberlain's inaugural address about the "municipalities of Maine." It has been harping upon it ever since because nobody has been fit to vindicate the Governor's scholarship against its blundering ass. Whoever wrote it, it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander.

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."—Is an old proverb which is truly brought to mind by the following sentences from a communication in yesterday's Argus:

The issues involved in the ensuing presidential election are of such importance that the very existence of the government is at stake. It is not a question of party advantage, but a question of the preservation of the Union. We must not allow ourselves to be divided by party lines, but must stand together for the good of our country.

Political Items.

The man who reported that Gen. Butler had a detective on Gen. Grant's track is a worthless scoundrel named Casarano, who has been in Sing Sing and, worse still, one of Jack Rogers' favorites.

A western paper says that Hancock is a Democrat, and would probably initiate, as far as possible, the negative, anti-negro policy of 1891, if appointed to Sheridan's place in the Fifth District.

John M. Bots and his friends have decided to overlook the ill-treatment they received at the Richmond convention, and to labor with the Radical party.

The Ohio Democrats hope to carry enough of the close counties in the State to enable them to put Pendleton or Thurman in Wade's place. One of their more successful plans is to keep Vallandigham as quiet as possible.

The Chicago Tribune predicts that the Republicans will carry twice as many States in the South as they did in the North at the Presidential election. Senator Wilson will undoubtedly confirm the opinion, and, what is more, the South itself will confirm it.

The Tribune wisely advises Brownlow, now that he is released to stop talking. It says that he means well, but he talks too much, and he sometimes talks like the Negro Brownlow.

The New York Herald, commenting upon the result of the election of 1896, says that the South will go solidly for the Republicans, and that the Democrats have ruined themselves and President Johnson in a vain attempt to recover the old Southern balance of power. The Herald adds that "the Northern Democracy, then, looking to the next Presidency, have not a leg to stand upon or a peg to hang by, and so the sooner, as a separate party, they are disbanded and reconstructed, the better it will be for them."

Portland and vicinity.

New Advertisements this Day.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

THE FAIR ELECTIONS.—The elections this fall occur in the following order: Sept. 3—Vermont; Sept. 9, Maine; Oct. 8—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; Oct. 20—New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Nevada; Nov. 2, Colorado. The Rebel States will hold their elections on the 11th of the month. Congress and the District Commissioners.

A Copperhead Broadside.

The following circular is being widely distributed by the supporters of the Democratic party in this State. The copy which lies before us comes from Augusta, where the Democratic candidate for governor practices law and conducts the Maine Standard. The private circulation of this broadside is a violation of the notion of honorable discussion entertained by the political managers of the Democratic party so admirably that we give it the benefit of our circulations:

RADICAL EXTERMINATION IN TIME OF PEACE.

TAX-PAYERS, LOOK AT THIS!

The following are the expenditures of the Government for 1896, 1897 and 1898:

	1896.	1897.	1898.
Service.	$1,016,000,000	$1,212,000,000	$1,412,000,000
Foreign Intercourse.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Miscellaneous.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Interest on Debt.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of War.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Department of Navy.	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Total.	$1,019,000,000	$1,215,000,000	$1,415,000,000

The above does not include the interest paid on the public debt, which was $138,000,000 in 1896, $148,000,000 in 1897, and $158,000,000 in 1898. When we add to the above the interest on the public debt, we find that the total cost of the Government for 1896 was $1,157,000,000, for 1897 $1,363,000,000, and for 1898 $1,573,000,000. This is a record of extravagance that should make every citizen look at his pocketbook and ask himself whether he is getting his money's worth.

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury! If you want your money made easy and your burden made light—vote for Pillsbury!

This document bears the marks of its authorship. It is the Bangor Democrat which seized with critical severity upon a passage in Governor Chamberlain's inaugural address about the "municipalities of Maine." It has been harping upon it ever since because nobody has been fit to vindicate the Governor's scholarship against its blundering ass. Whoever wrote it, it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander, and it is a masterpiece of cowardly and malicious slander.

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."—Is an old proverb which is truly brought to mind by the following sentences from a communication in yesterday's Argus:

The issues involved in the ensuing presidential election are of such importance that the very existence of the government is at stake. It is not a question of party advantage, but a question of the preservation of the Union. We must not allow ourselves to be divided by party lines, but must stand together for the good of our country.

Political Items.

The man who reported that Gen. Butler had a detective on Gen. Grant's track is a worthless scoundrel named Casarano, who has been in Sing Sing and, worse still, one of Jack Rogers' favorites.

A western paper says that Hancock is a Democrat, and would probably initiate, as far as possible, the negative, anti-negro policy of 1891, if appointed to Sheridan's place in the Fifth District.

John M. Bots and his friends have decided to overlook the ill-treatment they received at the Richmond convention, and to labor with the Radical party.

The Ohio Democrats hope to carry enough of the close counties in the State to enable them to put Pendleton or Thurman in Wade's place. One of their more successful plans is to keep Vallandigham as quiet as possible.

The Chicago Tribune predicts that the Republicans will carry twice as many States in the South as they did in the North at the Presidential election. Senator Wilson will undoubtedly confirm the opinion, and, what is more, the South itself will confirm it.

The Tribune wisely advises Brownlow, now that he is released to stop talking. It says that he means well, but he talks too much, and he sometimes talks like the Negro Brownlow.

The New York Herald, commenting upon the result of the election of 1896, says that the South will go solidly for the Republicans, and that the Democrats have ruined themselves and President Johnson in a vain attempt to recover the old Southern balance of power. The Herald adds that "the Northern Democracy, then, looking to the next Presidency, have not a leg to stand upon or a peg to hang by, and so the sooner, as a separate party, they are disbanded and reconstructed, the better it will be for them."

Portland and vicinity.

New Advertisements this Day.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

Yacht Mania.—W. F. Phillips & Co. Auctioneers.

THE FAIR ELECTIONS.—The elections this fall occur in the following order: Sept. 3—Vermont; Sept. 9, Maine; Oct. 8—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; Oct. 20—New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri and Nevada; Nov. 2, Colorado. The Rebel States will hold their elections on the 11th of the month. Congress and the District Commissioners.

A Copperhead Broadside.

The following circular is being widely distributed by the supporters of the Democratic party in this State. The copy which lies before us comes from Augusta, where the Democratic candidate for governor practices law and conducts the Maine Standard. The private circulation of this broadside is a violation of the notion of honorable discussion entertained by the political managers of the Democratic party so admirably that we give it the benefit of our circulations:

